Dear Sister Alumnæ:

In the heart of every Alumnæ there is a yearning to re-live some of those happy College experiences.

The day of days is approaching—Homecoming—March 1, 1941, to be exact. It's your day and my day so let's make it a gala day and return to our Alma Mater to re-catch that old spirit of "We're the girls of M. W. C."

Come early and stay late. There will be a cordial greeting and a special place provided for each and every one.

All of you who have cars, won't you please fill them up and make "Home Coming on the Hill' this year's finest occasion?

With best wishes to all of you.

Cordially yours,

MILDRED STEWART.

Alumnae Convocation Program

Our Alumnæ Association will sponsor the Convocation Program on March 5 at 7:00 P M. in George Washington Hall. All alumnæ are most cordially invited to attend.

Mildred Stewart, President, will preside.

Five alumnæ who have made marked success in their respective fields have been invited to participate in the program. Each has been invited to give a six minute speech on her field of work, its opportunities, and how Alma Mater contributed toward her preparatory background for it. Those invited to appear on the program are:

Miss Juliet Ware, B. S. '26, Virginia State Supervisor of Special Education. Following her graduation, Miss Ware taught public school music in Winston-Salem, N. C. for two years. After that she returned to her home county of Essex and worked first as elementary teacher and then as supervisor of elementary schools in Essex and King and Queen Counties until she accepted her present position with the State Department of Education, Sept. 1, 1938. She received her M. A. degree in elementary education from Teachers College, Columbia University, in August, 1938. While a student here Juliet proved herself to be an extremely capable and well-rounded person. She took an active part in many phases of college life, and held the office of the President of the Student Body and of President of the Y. W. C. A.

Clara Boyd Wheeler, B. S. '31, Associate Director of Health Education of the Y. W. C. A., Washington, D. C. Following her graduation she was Director of Girls' Physical Education, Washington and Lee High School, Arlington; Swimming Councellor at Camp Giscowheco; Playground Director, Clifton Forge, Virginia; and Playground Director, Arlington County, Virginia. As a student at the College, she was President of the Y. W. C. A.; Vice-President of the Student Government, and a member of Alpha Phi Sigma. She is the Past-President of the Mary Washington College Alumnae Association.

Mrs. Charles Payne, '29, Interior Decorator and Designer for Lansburg's, Washington, D. C. Mrs. Payne received her Diploma as Camilla Moody in 1924; married Charles Payne in 1925; completed her College course and received her degree in 1929. She was supervisor of elementary teachers in Princess Anne County for one year; traveled; studied Decorating and Interior Designing at the University of Cincinnati; began her work in that field in 1934. Her most outstanding projects have been the Life Home of 1939, and the Wishmaker's House of 1940. As a student she was President of the Choir Club; Secretary-Treasurer of Day Students' Club; member of the Battlefield Staff; member of many sports teams; member of German Club.

Mrs. Walter Filmer (Phronsie Marsh) 6716 Lincoln Ave., Orange, N. J. Mrs. Filmer received her M. A. in '32 from Columbia University; attended the Institute of Public Affairs, Geneva, Switzerland, during the summer of 1935; attended the National Music Camp, Interlocken, Michigan, summer 1940; did graduate work at George Washington University this past Fall; has matriculated for Ed. D. at New York University; was awarded a $700 Fellowship to work in safety education—the work began this month. In 1935 she traveled to Europe largely to attend the League of Nations Meetings in Geneva and to study with outstanding professors from European Universities; in 1936 she visited in Quebec, Canada, and went to Cold Spring Harbor to report studies on 'Electric Impulses in Cells and the Rate of Flow" and material on "Brain Waves"; in 1937 she returned to Europe to attend the International Law Congress in session during August in The Hague, The Netherlands. During the summers of '28, '29, '30 and '31 she studied at Columbia and also held positions with the Standard Oil Company. In 1933 she was Executive Assistant to Dr. Arthur Morgan, Chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority, Knoxville, Tennessee. 1934 found her reporting the symposia on the "Growth and Decay of Cells" at Cold Spring Harbor Biological Laboratories, Cold Spring Harbor, Long Island. In 1938 she worked in the Executive Offices of Standard Oil.

Approximately fifty of her poems have been published and are represented in three anthologies; 100 newspaper articles, and twenty magazine articles have been published. She is now writing a book.

Mrs. Harold Hart (Belle Oliver, '22), (See Fall Issue Alumnae News) has been invited, but up to the time this goes to press, has not responded.

Mary Washington Speaks For Itself

By HAROLD H. WEISS Director of Dramatic Arts

The fine arts have been described as those activities which exist principally for the purpose of giving esthetic pleasure—that is, pleasure dependent upon the appreciation of beauty. At Mary Washington College beauty is omnipresent. The wooded hills upon which the college is located, the buildings, dignified by a relationship with the past, the carefully planned, yet natural appearance of the campus lend themselves to esthetic pleasure. So it is that in the field of dramatic arts, one phase of that recognized beauty is exploited to a greater extent than ever before.

Dramatic Arts at Mary Washington College means many things. Primarily it consists of the courses that make up a very definite division of the curriculum, but along with the courses is a carefully knit plan of co-curricular work that consists of playwriting, the production of one-act and three-act dramas, the presentation of daily radio programs and the assistance in the staging of such varigated spectacles as water pageants, May Day festivals, carnivals, assembly programs, etc.

First let us examine the Department of Dramatic Arts and Speech as organized and presented in the new catalogue. We discover that one may establish a major in dramatics and speech and receive either the B A or the B S degree. The college has realized the need for majors in this field that might use the knowledge acquired to direct and stage school productions, coach debate and other speech activities, supervise the creation of the various forms of dramatic writing, and teach effectively the appreciation of dramatic literature. Some students may use the courses as stepping stones to professional radio or dramatics.

The Department of Dramatic Arts and Speech is divided, like Gaul, into three parts. One part which includes work in dramatic literature, consists of courses in History of The Theatre, Comparative Drama, Modern Drama, and is closely allied with the English department and the courses in Shake-speare. Playwriting, which may be taken for a full year, emphasizes the creative work in one-act plays, radio script-writing, and full length drama.

Projects of various types are built around the study of dramatic literature during the past year. Interesting model stages showing the development of the inn-yard theater during the Elizabethian times, the Commedia del'arte stage, and the pageant stages were fashioned. A plaster replica of one of the famed Greek theaters was modeled with the cooperation of the Art Department. Authentic masks of the sixteenth century Italian drama were reproduced for display by students in these classes. At various times original plays have been presented at the college. One evening an entire program of one-act plays, written, played, and directed by students of drama, was offered to a select audience in the Little Theater of Monroe Hall.

The theater arts courses are many and varied. They consist of a group including Acting, Rehearsal and Performance, and Direction and Management. Another section dealing with technical work takes in Scene Construction and Lighting, Stage Design and Pageantry, and Costume and Make-up. A special field concerns itself with the Children's Theater. Students who elect these courses obtain practical work in the design and staging of productions as well as in acting, and direction. Original costume designs are drawn, miniature stages, sets, and doll costumes are

The Speech Technique Division is developed by means of the following subjects: Speech Improvement, Oral Interpretation of Literature, Public Speaking, Debate and Extemporaneous Speaking, and Radio Broadcasting. The daily broadcasts from the college, the frequent appearance of a verse-speaking choir, and various chapel and convocation programs offer immediate experience for the theories proposed in the classes. In addition, the faculty and students of the Department of Dramatic Arts and Speech have cooperated to establish a Speech Clinic. Students who require special attention are sent to this clinic by various members of the faculty and receive personalized instruction when necessary. This clinic works with the Freshman Advisory Council to erase any vocal difficulties that might be discerned in new students at Mary Washington College.

The co-curricular speech activities offer opportunities for any kind of public performance. The Mary Washington Players present at least three full length plays per season plus innumerable one-act plays. More than two hundred members were admitted to this working group during the fall of 1940. Thirteen one-act plays gave all new applicants a chance to show their mettle in acting, directing and technical capacities. The fall quarter full length play, "Jane Eyre", played to an audience of fourteen hundred and was well received according to vocal and press notices. Mary Washington College is equipped with three theaters for public performance of plays. The new auditorium in George Washington Hall seats sixteen hundred and twenty-four persons. The new Hub Electric switch board controls the dimmers on four rows of boarder lights, a bank of disappearing foots and six recessed ceiling spots.

The light boarders are fully equipped for the hanging of flood lights, spot lights, and other illuminating devices. The stage, which has a proscenium opening of thirty-six feet by eighteen feet measures eighty feet from wall to wall. The gridiron is forty feet high and is hung with twenty-five counter balanced sets of rigging, and fifteen rope sets. Further equipment includes a full velour cyclorama, a blue sky cyclorama, a back drop and wood wings and several hundred flats and other pieces of movable scenery.

Below the stage are the dressing rooms and make-up rooms. In an adjacent building the costume library is located with more than eight hundred costumes from ancient to modern periods. George Washington Hall is equipped with 35 mm. sound moving picture equipment that compares favorably with any theater in the south.

Used for experimental productions, tryout plays, rehearsals, and class room work is the Little Theater in Monroe Hall. It seats approximately four hundred and eighty spectators, and is well equipped for such productions. The woodland theater is situated back of the new library and encloses its two thousand seats in a natural bowl shaped declivity. During the spring and summer the annual May fete, pageants, and other open air productions are staged there.

So it is these facilities that are used most frequently by Mary Washington Players to offer their performance to public eye. The group frequently sponsors trips to Washington and Richmond to witness some of the best theatrical productions there. Some of the great plays recently seen were the Lunts in "There Shall Be No Night", Flora Robson in "Ladies in Retirement", Ruth Chatterton in "Pygmalion", and Ethel Barrymore in "The Corn Is Green''.

Radio plays a major part in the speech activities here. George Washing Hall is equipped with a studio and control room wired directly to station WFVA in Fredericksburg, and WRNL in Richmond. From here, the radio broadcasting class produces six programs a week. Appearing on the program are the various departments of the college including the sixty piece concert orchestra, the fifty girl glee club, the like-sized vested choral club, and most recently of all the uniformed College Band. The students arrange the scripts for these programs, direct, announce, and produce them daily. The recording apparatus is utilized to transcribe voices for clinical work or entire programs for criticism.

Thus Mary Washington College meets the challenge for a new esthetic appreciation. In a world torn by strife it is indeed vital that traditions of the past be carefully preserved and that the mothers and teachers of our future generations be well equipped to pass on the appreciation of the beautiful in the arts. The department of Dramatic Arts and Speech, enlarged in a program of fine arts expansion by Mary Washington College's far seeing President, Dr. Morgan L. Combs, is attempting to meet that challenge.

In Memoriam

and the second program of the second second

The same of the second of the

"Some men are born great, some achieve greatness, other have greatness thrust upon them." How few there are who "walk with kings nor lose the common touch." The common touch-nay-the friendly hand to rich and poor alike—the educated, those less fortunate—but always the helping hand of fellowship.

In honoring Dr. Walter Jorgensen Young, teacher, educator, minister, we, the Alumnæ, think of this truly great man, not in terms of his books which will be a heritage for posterity, but as a friend. An early educator of our Alma Mater, it was he who might say at the conclusion of a class, "I know you girls would like the dancing fire-light, a taste of home life. Come over to the house tonight." Again a girl is sick—very ill. His presence is a familiar sight in the Infirmary, cheering her with his smile, teaching by his very presence the omnipotence of prayer.

To be beloved one must innately be human. A twinkle in the eye, a ready wit, a mirth provoking joy—these endeared his pupils to himself. School life at its best may occasionally provoke a tear: that letter from home, illness in the family, an operation. To whom did we take these sorrows? The Youngs' doors were always open wide for encouragement, for spiritual uplift.

A teaching implied, though never spoken, when as a practice teacher we went to him for advice: "A child is a living human being, even as you, do not expect the impossible. Live your life that he, perhaps unconsciously, may be a better boy or girl for having had the privilege of knowing you."

A chapel program—there had been the week previously a campus upheaval pertaining to the character and consequent shiping of a girl. An air of solemnity pervaded the portals of the room. Rumor had run rife in regard to the sentence of a fellow classmate. How unkind one's fellow students may be at times. There was a hush. A silver haired gentleman stepped from the inner recesses of the stage. He held a small leather book in his hands. Those who occupied the first few rows know instinctively it was the Holy Bible. He began to read: "Though I speak with the tongues of men and of angels and have not love, I am become as sounding brass or a tinkling cymbol." A pause and then the final verse: "And now abideth faith, hope, love, but the greatest of these is love." Dr. Young walked off the stage; Convocation was dismissed.

He lived his life to the fullest, a man whose qualities might be found in his favorite verse from Shakespeare: "This above all, to thine own self be true, and it must follow as the night and day thou cans't not then be false to any man."

The first edition of the new College Magazine, the "Epaulet", came out Saturday, January 18. The "Epaulet" is sponsored by "Modern Portias" under the direction of Dr. Shankle, Head of the English Department, and will be published each quarter. Each copy is to range from fifty to seventy-five pages in length. It is intended to be entirely a literary magazine, including short stories, essays, poems, dramas, editorials, and novelty writing submitted by the members of the student body.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamlet are spending the winter in Florida at 212 Cedar Avenue, Coronado Beach. Both are feeling much better now that they are in the warm sunshine there. Mr. Hamlet writes of their great appreciation of the many letters and remembrances received from alumnæ, faculty, students, and other friends. Both of them send fondest greetings to everyone.

Work on the new library building is progressing nicely. If the weather keeps open so work can be carried on as it has been, we hope to be able to occupy the building by July 1.

The first College Promenade, to which approximately 250 couples have been invited, will be given on Saturday, February 15. It was Dr. Combs' conviction that every young woman should, during the year, have the opportunity to attend a formal dance. With this in mind, early this year he appointed a Committee consisting of Mrs. Eula Porter Robins, Chairman, Mrs. Estelle Derrybery, Miss Thelma Hall, and Mrs. Martha Snyder, to sponsor a series of three such dances during the year

Plans for both the Ball and Tea Dance are worked out as carefully as those by either the German or Cotillion Clubs.

Anyone wishing to attend one of these dances during the year signs with the Committee to that effect, and is later sent a formal bid by the Committee. The dances are open to all students except members of German and Cotillian Clubs.

Winner of the Annual Beauty Contest, sponsored this year by the Junior Class as their Class Benefit, was Alois Brill of Winchester. Alois is a junior and an Art major. Myran Russell of Denver, Colorado won second place. She is a Sophomore and a French major.

The Committee for Chapel and Convocation Programs has arranged many programs of unusual merit this year. Several outstanding speakers have been secured. Among them have been:

Dr. Ruth Henderson, Supervisor of Elementary Education in the state, sponsored by Alpha Tau Pi, January 8.

Dr. N. P. Neilson, Ph D., Executive Secretary of the American Association of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation, sponsored by the Athletic Association, December 11.

Dr. Raymond Pinchbeck, Dean of the University of Richmond, November 27. His subject on this occasion was "The College Student and National Defense." The program was sponsored by the honorary commercial fraternity, Sigma Tau Chi. After the convocation program, they entertained Dr. and Mrs. Pinchbeck at a small informal reception. Present at the reception were the honored guests, Dr. and Mrs. Edward Alvey, Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Dodd, members of the commercial faculty, and members of Sigma Tau Chi.

On January 15 and 16 tuberculosis X-Ray tests were offered to members of the student body, faculty, and all other employees. This test-giving has become part of the Mary Washington College routine health examination. Students and Faculty may be X-Rayed at the very small fee of $1. Maids and kitchen employees are all X-Rayed at the expense of the College.

The second floor of the new bowling alleys is reserved for College students every Saturday afternoon. The Bowling Chairman, Ann Mays, '43, finds many of the students are bowling enthusiasts.

The Woman's National Officials Rating Committee has one of three Virginia branches located at M. W. C.

The mural painting class, under the direction of Mr. Emil Schnellock, will soon complete the work on the second mural to be hung in the entrance of George Washington Hall. The first panel was completed and hung last year. This second panel depicpicts many scholastic activities of the College and the presentation of degrees by Dr. Combs assisted by Dr. Alvey. Most of the actual painting of this panel has been done by Mr. Schnellock, with the students getting their preparatory training for the work by working out the preliminary details. Later the students themselves will design and paint panels to go on other portions of the wall. Students of the College have been chosen to model for all the students represented in the panel. Represented are Lucy Dickinson, Beverly Roberts, Jones, Constance Pusey, Ann Martin, Beth Copps, Frances Lawson, Virginia Morgan, and Ruth Conover.

Dr. Lillias Francis, head of the Home Economics and Dietetics Depart, is out for the Winter Quarter because of illness.

Mary Washington College publications, "The Bullet" and the "Battlefield", received highest honors in their respective classes at the annual convention of the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association which was held at Blacksburg, Virginia, this year.

Following is a list of students from M. W. C. whose biographies will appear in the forthcoming edition of WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES: Nancy Brooker, Vice-President of Y. W. C. A.; Donald Holden, Secretary of Student Council; Marjorie May Clapp, Editor of the Bullet; Elizabeth Ann Carter, Freshman Commissioner; Hilda Clark, President of Alpha Phi Sigma; Josephine Ewing, President of the Senior Class; Margaret Gilman, President of A. A.; Raynell Goodman, President of I. R. C.; Almeda Hill, Editor-in-Chief of the Battlefield; Elizabeth Snow, Vice-President of Student Government; Frances Mahood Williams, President of Modern Portias; and Miliscent Græff.

Girls whose names appeared in the last year's "WHO'S WHO" are not eligible for it again this year. This ruling automatically bars Jeanette Cooper, President of Student Government; June Stoll, President of Mary Washington Players, and Marguerite Jennings, President of Y. W. C. A., all of whom were in "WHO'S WHO" last year.

"Jane Eyre" presented by the Mary Washington Players on the night of December 16, at 8:30 o'-clock, in George Washington Hall, has been pronounced a complete success. Favorable comments have been heard from all sides and the capacity crowd that attended the performance came away completely satisfied.

Wednesday, December the 4th, found the members of the Hoof Print Club and invited guests ready to start on an opossum hunt. Every one had bundled up warm and were ready for anything. Some of the girls had the idea it was a game and that you divided up—half being 'possums while the other half were the hounds hunting the animals. They were in for a surprise.

The party left Oak Hill Stables about 7:00 and started off down through the woods after the hounds. Later when they had "treed" the 'possum, the group rushed to the tree to see, for the first time for many of them, a real, live 'possum.

The well known and much talked about land mark of the campus, the decrepit airplane, has been removed. A fish pond, sixteen feet in diameter, is located on the spot. Water spouts up through the center of the tall concrete column which was back of Willard, falls down onto a circular basin set on top of the column and spills down into the pond which is to be lighted from the base with large colored lights. Lovely sight!

Jamie Redwood, of Mobile, Alabama, has been chosen by the student body to reign as May Queen. Maid of honor is Alois Brill, of Winchester, who had been previously chosen by judges at the Junior Class Benefit as Mary Washington's most beautiful girl.

The Mary Washington Band paraded, on invitation from the officials, at the Peanut Festival held in Suffolk on January 29. They were generously applauded by spectators thronging the avenues throughtout the two and a half mile parade and came away tired, but the jubilant possessors of the $100 second prize. Mr. Ronald Faulkner, Director, and all the students are justly proud of the success of their first public appearance. The band was organized during the Fall Quarter.

Newly appointed to our Faculty and Staff are: Mr. Hal Baird, Ph. B., and M. A., University of Chicago, instructor in Philosophy; Mr. George Leland Murphy, Commerce; Miss Dorothy Sweeting, Home Economics; and Miss Margaret Bach, Dietitian.

Mr. Richard Kirby, Commercial Department, has a leave of absence for the rest of the year to attend Harvard University. Mr. Kirby will continue his work on his doctor's degree.

The Mary Washington College On-The-Air Program is presented daily over W. F. V. A. from 1:30 to 1:45. This station is on 1260 kilocycles and can be heard very nicely within a fifty mile radius from Fredericksburg. Some listeners have picked up the college program as far away as 185 miles west. The weekly programs over W. R. N. L. Richmond, are scheduled for Thursday 4:30 to 4:55 P. M. These programs which eminate through the 1000 watt News Leader Station are sent from Richmond on an 880 kilocycle wave.

The Tuesday programs through W. F. V. A. have been broadcast with the cooperation of Miss Eva Taylor Eppes, head of the Department of Music, Mary Washington College, and are dedicated to alumnæ of the College. Honored so far by these Tuesday broadcasts were: Mildred Stewart, Lillie Turman, Mrs. Nannie Mae Williams, Clara Boyd Wheeler, Mrs. Phæbe Willis, and Juliette Ware.

All programs feature college musical and dramatic talent. The Broadcasting group would appreciate messages from any of the former graduates of the College who might pick up these programs.

The Lyceum Committee presented Cornelia Otis Skinner to a completely filled auditorium on January 31. Miss Skinner's original character sketches delighted the audience of students, faculty, and friends alike, and sent them home much the better from having heard her.

The student body has chosen to honor the parents of the students by dedicating the 1940-41 Battlefield to them.

Bobby DePass. '42. of Puerto Rica, wrote the words and music of 'One Letter From You." Last year Kitty Roberts, '40, a popular vocalist on our radio programs, featured this song frequently on her broadcasts. Recently the two got together with Ada Clement, '43, in the Recording Room of the Broadcasting Studio and made a record of the song to send to Tommv Dorsey's Ameteur Song Contest which is broadcast every Friday night. The record is a letter addressed to "Dear Tommy" asking him to listen to the song which follows. Ada played it as a piano solo, then Bobby sang the chorus in the "hot" tempo and Kitty followed her with the chorus sung in "sweet" tempo. Best Wishes! Hope you win!

The Littlefield Ballet will be presented by the Lyceum Committee in the Auditorium of George Washington Hall, on the evening of the sixth of March.

News of Alumnae

Mrs. Eugene W. Higgins (Nora Derkert, '36) writes, "Heard from Jean Whitehead Burgan. They have moved to a larger apartment in Geneva, N. Y. and are now living at 102 Nursery Ave.

Ann Duke Barnes had a wonderful Christmas and is kept very busy what with her husband and her 29 month old daughter, 214 Broadway, Salem, N. J.

Nancy Browning wrote me that Ina Rogers is doing a good piece of work with Farm Security. Nancy also wrote that she is working in Dayton, Virginia, after receiving her masters degree in August. She is a member of the Madison College Faculty and is also resident Home Economics teacher in the High School, but has the student teachers do their teaching under her.

I had a marvelous Christmas and just spent a wonderful week in New York. We took in some good shows, had a delicious luncheon at the Stork Club, went to the Ice Skating meet in Rye, N. Y., etc., etc."

Jesse Lee Thomas, '28, writes, "I do long for old Fredericksburg more than ever. I have gotten out my great aunt's black lace shawl, which I wore "Kenmore Day." I visited one of my roommates, Elizabeth Holland Bomar, Thanksgiving and went to see Elizabeth Ewan Moss, too. She told me about Katie Rowe's having addressed a P.-T. A. meeting in Newport News. I wish I could do something to make my Alma Mater proud of me, but you help me get this Alumnae Chapter organized and we may go places.

I have had eleven years' experience in fifth, sixth and seventh grades as well as my high school work some of which has been done in social science. I have had one graduate course in English and Units of Work in industrial arts from William and Mary. I would like to go to the University of Virginia this summer. I spent four weeks and six days in the University Hospital last July and August. I wasn't confined to the hospital so I saw quite a bit of the University."

Martha Eleanor Welsh, '38, is teaching in Horn Mountain School at Pilgrim Knob, Virginia. She writes in a most interested and interesting way about her work. Her school is located high up in the Mountain and is rather inaccessible, but she says she'd rather be teaching school there than doing anything else, anywhere else. Quoting, "I love teaching. To be doing something you love to do is heaven on earth." Martha sent along a picture, too. She looks grand. Best wishes, Martha.

Camilla Moody Payne, President of the Washington Chapter, left January 29 with her husband for a two weeks vacation in Miami. On their way back they will visit friends in Macon and Atlanta.

Mrs. H. L. Snuggs, (Grace Mason, '19) and Mr. Snuggs are Baptist Missionaries in Woo Chu, China. They have three children. Mr. Snuggs is Superintendent of a hospital there and Grace teaches Home Economics and Music.

Some of the alumnae have made special trips to Fredericksburg to hear Dr. Shankle read portions of his book, "The Old Sisters".

Mrs. Harry Layfield (Ella Garnett Hoskins, '14) is living in Cape Charles, Virginia. Mr. Layfield is employed with the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Miriam Perrin, '16, from Ashland is married and living in Georgia.

Mrs. Carlyle Clark (Louise Milbourne, '18) now lives in Richmond.

Mrs. Harry Fuqua, (Effie Berry, '17) lives in Cape Charles, Virginia. Her husband is employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad. There are three children: Virginia is a student at William and Mary College, Everett is president of the Honor Council in Cape Charles High School.

Jouette Evans is now Mrs. Walton Nottingham, of Cheriton, Virginia.

Ina Taylor, '16, is Mrs. Cecil Powell of Cape Charles, Virginia. She has four sons

Lucy Dixon, '15, is agent for the Pennsylvania Railroad at Kiptopeake, Virginia.

Mildred Brown, '17, is Mrs. W. G. Ragland, 3214 Grove Ave., Richmond. Her husband is with the Mosmiller Floral Company.

Mrs. Owen Smith (Edna Daniel, '36) has moved to the Stratford Apartment, 34th and West Ave., Newport News, Virginia. She is a teacher at George Wythe Junior High School in Hampton. During the Christmas season Edna sang in a chorus that presented Handel's "Messiah" at the First Baptist Church.

Joanna Pappendreau, '40 is working at Norfolk Navy Yard, and is sharing an apartment with her brother, Pappy, at New Dale Home Apartments, Portsmouth, Virginia.

Helen Shutleff, '35, of Edgartown, Martha's Vineyard, Massachusetts, is to be married in the spring and will live in West Virginia.

Gladys Sherman is now Mrs. W. Bradley Hall and lives at 1809 North Wayne St., Arlington, Virginia.

Betty Garden is the dietitian at the Crozer, Hospital in Chester, Pennsylvania. After graduation she took a year's course as student dietitian at the Jefferson Hospital and was also on the staff there until she started work at the Crozer Hospital.

Georgiana Woodhouse, '39, is teaching commercial work at her Alma Mater, Woodrow Wilson High School in Portsmouth. She says she is thoroughly enjoying her work.

Maude Embrey, '34, is teaching the fifth grade in Warrenton. Since graduating she has worked two years in Washington, taught one year in Remington, Virginia, and is teaching in Warrenton for her fourth year.

Irene Majette, '33, is Mrs. E. E. Shore, Jr. She has a son about six years old. She now lives in Elkins, N. C.

I had a lovely letter from Isabel Walker Spence telling me about her second home in the South. After her marriage in Vineland, N. J. she went with her husband, Nelson, to N. C. About the time she could get up and have hot biscuit "a la Southerner" he was transferred to La Guardia Field via Floyd Bennett Field. He tells the planes when to go and whither I believe. While there, Mary Louise was born. I have a dear picture of her at 6 months. Time passed on, Greetings on special days; then a big event—a boy came to them while they were in Louisiana at Lake Charles. Again a Southerner in September, 1940.

Another former student, Nancy Browning, wrote me too since Christmas. She has really given me three reports within the year 1940. First, her M. A. degree, then just as she started school on Eastern Shore—an appendectomy; then after Christmas an offer of a position of critic teacher at Harrisonburg beginning about Feb. 1, I believe.

Local Chapters

Tidewater, Virginia Chapter:

On January 15th the Tidewater Chapter held a benefit card party at the Y. W. C. A. in Newport News. Bridge was enjoyed at eight tables, although the committee had hoped to get up twentyfive. Because of the flu epidemic and inclement weather, many groups cancelled their reservations at the last minute. $10.31 was realized at the party and forwarded at once to the Executive Secretary to aid in publishing the next bulletin (this one). Three prizes were given for scores and a pack of Mary Washington playing cards awarded to the person holding the lucky number. Arrangements were made for the affair by Frances Curtis Smith, Eloise Trussell, Barbara Mc-Grath Newsome, Mary Clements Turner, Elizabeth Ewan Moss, Lalie Lett Webb, Ida Wooten Dederick and Clara Richards.

Plans are being made for a banquet in February.

Many alumnae from this section are planning to attend the Home-Coming in March and the Commencement in June.

Richmond Chapter:

A successful bridge benefit was held on January 28. Every table was sold and a very happy evening was spent by all.

FREDERICKSBURG CHAPTER:

The Fredericksburg Chapter of the Alumnae Association, at a meeting early in the fall, pledged $35.00 to the National Association. This, our main project of the year, we hope to complete by Spring. As a means toward obtaining this amount we decided to give a series of bridge parties and perhaps a bingo party. So far, we have been able to have only one such affair. This was a bridge party at Mrs. Francis Winston's (Mrs. Esther Holmes), who kindly offered her home to be used for such occasions. Another was scheduled in January but the recent flu epidemic prevented it, so we are planning one in early February.

The Club is enjoying an interesting season. Our meetings have been varied and attractive.

At the February meeting we are to be guests of the College for dinner, a very special event which we all look forward to with much anticipation.

The association with the College has been pleasant this year and those connected with the school have been particularly co-operative and helpful to our local organization whenever they could.

Recently the President of the Fredericksburg Chapter was interviewed at the local radio station, WFVA, in behalf of her chapter and the National Association. At that time she told something of the history, progress, duties, and functions of the Association and somewhat outlined the activities of both groups for this year.

Our organization plans to use the radio as a means of announcing our future programs. We are hoping this will increase our attendance at meetings, and stimulate renewed interest.

Washington Chapter:

On December 7, '40, thirty-four alumnae from Washington and near-by Virginia and Maryland, met at a luncheon at the Taft Inn, 1603 K Street, N. W.

Louise Jennings Creamer made most of the arrangements for this luncheon. For a tax of 60 cents per, she provided lunch, a lovely flower arrangement for the head table, a corsage for the Chairman, Camilla Payne, who was later elected President, and small buttoniers in Alma Mater's colors for everybody! (She'll be drafted next to help balance the National Budget!)

Enthusiasm for an organized Chapter ran rife! Twenty-three of those present paid their chapter dues of 50 cents per year on the spot and the business of the meeting began in earnest. Besides the President, other officers elected were:

Mrs. Charles McCallum—Vice-President.
Mrs. Edmund Creamer____Secretary
Mrs. Lawrence Swindell____Treasurer

Mrs. Pembroke Pettit was elected as this chapter's member of the Board of Directors.

The Chapter is to be called the Washington Chapter of the Mary Washington College Alumnae Association, but is open to any alumna in nearby vicinities.

A Membership and Constitution Committee were appointed.

The Chapter is having another luncheon on the first Saturday in March so delegates can be selected to send to Homecoming, March 1st.

All the members of the local chapter have paid their dues to the Mary Washington College Alumnae Association. Besides these twenty-three, many other Washington alumnae are supporting their Alma Mater's Alumnae Association.

Congratulations and best wishes are extended to you, the Washington Chapter, by the officers of the Mary Washington College Alumnae Association. You are beginning a fine thing with rare enthusiasm. The mother organization stands ready to help you at any time.

Roanoke Chapter:

The Roanoke Chapter of Mary Washington College Alumnae Association met for luncheon at the Patrick Henry Hotel, October 12, at which time the following officers were elected: Rebecca Stratton, President; Virginia Harris, Vice-President; Marguerite Gregory, Secretary; Virginia Vaughan, Treasurer.

Saturday, January 11, the officers met and appointed several committees for the year:

Ways and Means: Ellen Keister, Chairman, Jean Dulaney, Isabel Kessler.

Membership: Phyllis Thompson, Chairman, Katie Key, Rheba Weddle, Francis Phippins Ford, Frances Cook, Myra McCormick.

Social Committee: Mary Estes, Chairman, Virginia H. Royer, Elizabeth Page. Publicity: Stella Miles, Chairman, Jane McCorkindale, Kathleen Akers.

Nominating Committee: Catherine Brown, Chairman, Mary Louise BcBroom, Dorothea Hughes, Thelma Chambers.

Rebecca says: "At this time I should like to extend a special invitation to all alumnae at Roanoke and vicinity to become a member of our chapter. Visitors from other associations are welcome. The February meeting is to be the first anniversary of the Roanoke Chapter—Let's have every alumnae in Roanoke and vicinity."

Future Connecticut Chapter:

Writes Mrs. Donald French (Beatrice Child) of Tolland:

"A group of us here in Connecticut are interested in starting an Alumnae Chapter. I received your card asking for information about any alumnae. I was not able to think of any special news—and then thought that if we had a Chapter, we would be able to keep in touch with each other and also M. W. C."

Thats right, Bee, and a fine thought! The flu had me at the time your letter came, hence the delay in replying. However, the information you wish is on it's way—and with it comes our best wishes. We'll be thinking of you at Home-Coming and wishing you were here. Can't you surprise us and come?

Future Loudoun Chapter:

Writes Mrs. Holmes Gregg (Sue McGee) of Purcellville:

"There are quite a few Alumnae living or teaching in Louddoun and I, for one would be interested in having a local Chapter—or at least one in Northern Virginia."

It would be grand to have a Chapter there. Will others of you alumnae in that section contact Mrs. Gregg, talk the situation over and see what can be done.

How about getting a group together and coming down to Home-Coming—just as a beginning? We'd love to have you.

Future Northampton County Chapter:

Writes Jesse Lee Thomas of Cheriton: "I see by the "Alumnae News" that there are alumnae chapters elsewhere and I am interested in establishing one in Northampton County." She sends a list of twenty-one alumnae whom she knows in Northampton County. There are also many alumnae in Accomac County. For the past two years, at least, there has been much interest expressed by many from these counties to have a chapter organized. How about an Eastern Shore Chapter?

Won't you, who have expressed a desire for a chapter, contact Miss Thomas and really begin such an organization?

Alumnae Thanksgiving Luncheon

The Alumnæ of Mary Washington College enjoyed a luncheon this year at the Commonwealth Club in Richmond. There may have been as many as usual in attendance, but surely that number is not keeping up with the growth of our school. However, the dignified atmosphere of the whole affair, and the whole-hearted fellowship did justice to our Alma Mater. It was a time when old friends met and a time when many new friends were made. It is so good to find again a friend, one whom you may not have seen for years and years.

The tables were nicely arranged in one of the attractive dining rooms and decorated with beautiful chrysanthemums. Each individual found at her place a lovely butonaire in blue and white which made a most attractive souvenir. The mingling together under such an environment was most pleasant.

Miss Mildred Stewart, the president of our Alumnæ Association presided and after we had all done justice to a delicious meal, she introduced the presidents of the local chapters. Dr. Combs then made some appreciative remarks of the occasion and further reminded us of the continued growth of our beloved college.

ELEANOR DOGGETT,
Secretary.

Present at Thanksgiving Luncheon were:

Virginia Locke, Alice Dew, Clara Richards, Dr. Morgan Combs, Tip Brown, Rosella Tuck, Jeannette Martin, Mary Castine, Marion McDaniel, Frances Troutman, Mary Van Parks, Nellie Mae Stewart Pettit, Bill Wheeler McCallum, Mrs. Edward Alvey, Carrie Vaughan, Molly Parrish, Hazel Wood, Marion Ashbrook, Isabel Kesler, Emily Rowe, Frances Nash, Virgiinia "Bill" Easley, Nannie Mae M. HOMECOMING March the First

The Athletic Association, in conjunction with the Alumnæ Association, is making elaborate plans for your Homecoming Week-End.

Come, play and visit with us and each other during that time. Let's every alumna make her road lead to Mary Washington College on Friday, February 28th or Saturday, March 1st.

The Mary Washington Players are presenting "The Yellow Jacket", a three-act play, at 8:00 o'clock in the Auditorium of George Washington Hall on the evening of February 28. The Players are reserving seventy-five seats at 25c instead of the regular 35c for the alumnæ.

Our new auditorium has the best equipped stage in the state. Come on Friday for Homecoming and see our students in "The Yellow Jacket". These 25c seats are available only until the seventy-fifth one is taken. Mail your quarter and your reservation immediately to Alumnæ Secretary, M. W. C. Call for reserved tickets at office of Alumnæ Secretary, Willard Hall, Friday afternoon or evening, February 28.
